

JIG-A-LOO USA'S FAMILY OF INNOVATIVE AUTOMOTIVE AND HOME IMPROVEMENT PRODUCTS

STATESVILLE, NC – Jig-A-Loo USA, Inc. (www.jigaloo.com), makers of innovative automotive and home improvement products, has brought to market an impressive line of products since establishing its US headquarters in 2007. From garage and automotive to household and outdoor uses, each of Jig-A-Loo's unique product offerings are quickly becoming consumer favorites. Jig-A-Loo products can be purchased at Home Depot, Advance Auto Parts, Target, PepBoys and participating independent hardware retailers nationwide.

"With each new product we bring to market, Jig-A-Loo stays true to its company vision by introducing innovation that helps simplify a little part of everyday life," says Cindy Sutton, vice president Jig-A-Loo USA, Inc. "We've continued to see positive growth since opening operations here in the U.S. and we look forward to continued expansion as we branch out into new channels."

EconoGreen Plastics

Made from 100% recycled plastics, EconoGreen products come in all shapes and sizes, from trash and contractor bags to drop cloths. Engineered to be fully oxodegradable and breakdown completely within two years, EconoGreen bags are extremely durable and long lasting. They cost less than comparable plastic bags and drop cloths while providing equal or better quality. It's our way of thanking you for reducing your impact on the environment. Finally, a high quality eco-friendly product that costs less!

Jig-A-Clean

Specialty hand cleaners have been around for some time; however what differentiates Jig-A-Clean is its practicality and ease of use. Only a small amount of this light foam is needed to put Jig-A-Clean to work, just spray in your hand and scrub. By rubbing the foam into your hands, dirt, grease and oils are collected into small flakes that drop away, leaving no residue behind. Whether in your garage or working outdoors, Jig-A-Clean is a quick and easy solution to get rid of dirt in seconds.

Jig-A-Patch

The first wall repair kit in a spray can combines the three key elements needed for wall repair and paint preparation: sprayable spackle, putty knife and a sanding pad. Jig-A-Patch shortens prep time and reduces mess. The fast and easy way to fix cracks and holes in walls, Jig-A-Patch is simple to use:

- Step 1. Shake can very well
- Step 2. Spray a small amount of Jig-A-Patch spackle into the damaged area of a wall. Wait two minutes.
- Step 3. Using the integrated putty knife/cap, spread the spackle evenly. Wait two hours.
- Step 4. With the 3M reusable sanding pad (also included), gently sand the repaired area of the wall for a perfectly smooth finish.

Graphite Extreme

Designed to adhere and endure on components exposed to high heat, Graphite Extreme is ideal for doors/locks, automobile engines, gears, chains, snow blowers and electrical equipment. It can be used in extreme temperatures ranging from -99 - 986 degrees F. Graphite Extreme is also ideal for automotive applications wherever friction and heat cause lubrication problems like hard-to-reach places where manual lubrication presents problems. As an internal lubricant, Graphite Extreme can be used as an extra layer of protection just about anywhere under the hood. In addition to its lubrication and anti-seize properties, Graphite Extreme can be used to treat surfaces to prevent rust formation and freezing.

Jig-A-Loo

Jig-A-Loo USA's original lubricant, Jig-A-Loo, has been a popular product in Canada since 1998 and quickly established itself as Canada's best all-around invisible lubricant. In 2007, the silicone based lubricant and water repellent was launched in the United States. In today's busy lifestyle, there are thousands of practical uses for Jig-A-Loo around the home, office, garden, car, boat, campground, or just about anyplace. It sprays on clear and dries in seconds; it doesn't stain or stink. It's the only product on the market to combine lubricant and repellent applications in one can.
